

Rush Soccer is proud to unveil the 2012-2013

Men's competitive uniform.

Throughout the past two years, we have received enormous amounts of feedback on our current Rush Blue kits. With Nike leading the way, Rush Soccer has decided to shift gears for the upcoming men's cycle. The color scheme will focus on 'in-line' product meaning we will have plenty of stock to support our growing membership as well as a traditional black, royal blue, grey, and white color scheme.

Our training kits will be a basic black, which allows for more wear and tear over the next two years. The overall product quality has increased with the material and will withstand a long season. All kits will have a white 10" number that ensures visibility from a distance. All Rush logos will be white as the main color on the game jerseys. The warm up jacket is a classic royal blue jacket and backpack will include an embroidered number and Rush logo. All training, game, and warm up pants will be unmarked.
