

2012 U13 Rush Festival To Be Hosted By Virginia

Rush

The dates and location for the 2012 U13 Rush Festival have been finalized. Virginia Rush will host the Festival in Virginia Beach beginning July 11th and running till July 15th.

"The Virginia Rush is honored and excited to host the first ever U13 2012 Rush Festival," said Virginia Rush Technical Director Jay Hoffman. "Through the years, our players have always had a great experience at the Festival and we are excited to host it on the East Coast next year. We have a great resort location and first-class facilities. We invite the Rush Family to come join us for a great soccer experience at the beach."

For the first time, the Rush Festival will be held for a new age group, U13. This group will have a five day Festival full of games, practices and social events.

"The Rush Festival has grown into a truly unique event. With two successful events back to back last year, we are excited to be able to offer this experience again to the U13 age group in 2012," commented Rush Soccer Technical Director Andrew Kummer. "With the great facilities and wonderful location that Virginia Rush has to offer, we are confident we will create another successful age group event."

U13 teams will kick off the festivities on Wednesday July 11th and play their final games on Sunday the 15th.

Rush Travel is available to coordinate travel arrangements and is already working on securing hotels for the event. Ground transportation and flight group codes will be generated in the next few weeks. Be sure to visit <http://RushTravel.org> for information.

More details will be available in the coming weeks regarding registration and more.
